Applicant & New Hire Disclosure Statement

Ameriprise India LLP ("Ameriprise India") would like to take this opportunity to inform you regarding the personal information that we collect about you and how we use it. By signing the statement (application or contract), you indicate that you have read and hereby agree with the terms and conditions as set in the following paragraphs, to the collection, use and disclosure of your personal information.

In addition to the information on the attached job application form, we also collect personal information from you directly such as from your resume, new hire documentation, benefits enrollment forms, personal identifiers issued by government, financial data, medical records/history, background references, previous employment and experience information and Biometric information.

Ameriprise India uses Biometric information for two purposes: (i) giving employees secure access to the Ameriprise India's facilities and (ii) conducting criminal background checks to comply with regulatory requirements. Biometrics information herein includes, but is not limited to, fingerprints, voiceprints, retina or iris scan, or scan of hand or face geometry.

You can be assured that all of your personal information will be solely for the purpose of administering your application and your employment relationship, should one be consummated, including:

- Verification of credential and prior employment history;
- Payroll and employee benefits including insurance and pension;
- Your employment contract with us and prevailing policies and procedures as set out in the Employee Handbook, and memos issued from time to time which are incorporated into the Handbook;
- Training and development, planning and organization;
- Communications and other events that are part of employment history, performance ratings, goal setting and rewards;
- Compliance with regulatory requirements including record keeping and reporting for public health care, Pension programs and tax purposes.

On becoming an Ameriprise India employee, your personal information will be processed and stored on our systems located in United States and may be processed in other countries as well by authorized personnel. The authorized personnel will have access to your personal information only for legitimate business purposes. However, wherever your personal information may be accessed or processed, Ameriprise India takes appropriate steps to ensure that your personal information is secured and protected. In some scenarios of your personal information processing, you will be provided with appropriate notice and/or express written consent might be obtained from time to time.

Some of the personal information collected from you will be disclosed to our human resource service consultants and, where applicable, to third parties for the purpose of providing information about your employment with us, or to other authorized representatives as required by applicable law. We will also be providing information about you to the Ameriprise group of companies globally, so that we may manage your personal information and our relationship with you more effectively.

Ameriprise India uses advanced technology and well-defined practices to help ensure that your personal information is processed promptly, accurately and securely. Therefore, any personal information, which is found to be incorrect or incomplete, will be corrected promptly and will be kept no longer than is appropriate for the above purposes, or as is otherwise required by applicable law. If you have any questions about processing, or if you like to correct, update or check the accuracy of personal information that Ameriprise India holds about you, we encourage you to contact Human Resources who will also co-operate with the appropriate regulatory authorities as necessary, in the event of an unresolved dispute.

By signing this statement, you are deemed to be consenting to the foregoing collection, use and/or disclosure of your personal information and to the retention of such personal information for as long as permitted or required by applicable law or business practice.

Your signature and acceptance to the collection, processing, disclosure and transfer of your personal information is a necessary item of your job application and is included as material term of employment contract if employment is offered to you, to which you must agree in order to be employed by Ameriprise India.

If you do not return this signed statement to certify that you consent to the collection, processing, disclosure and transfer of your personal information to the other countries, and to agree to its inclusion as a material term of any employment contract which may be consummated, we will consider it as a revocation of your application for employment and you will not be eligible for employment with Ameriprise India.

Please return this signed statement to your hiring Manager / Human Resources immediately on joining.

Confidentiality Agreement

The nature of your work at Ameriprise India LLP ("Ameriprise"), and for each of its subsidiaries and affiliates (collectively the "Company"), involves your access to proprietary and trade secrets, confidential information, files, records, and forms of the Company (collectively "Confidential Information"). Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, any information relating to the Company's organizational structure, marketing philosophy and objectives, project plans, data models, strategy and vision statements, business initiatives, business requirements, systems design, methodologies, processes, competitive advantages and disadvantages, financial results, product features, systems, operations, technology, customer lists, customer account information, employee data, product development, advertising or sales programs and any other information which would give the Company an opportunity to obtain an advantage over its competitors or which the Company is ethically obligated to protect from unauthorized sources. None of such information shall be deemed to be in the public domain.

The company desires to protect its investment and confidential information and therefore requires that you agree, as a condition of your future or continued employment, to safeguard all Confidential Information and not to reveal Confidential Information of the Company to any third party, within or outside the Company, except to the extent authorized and necessarily required in the normal course of your job duties and responsibilities.

You agree not to disclose, discuss, publish and/ or otherwise provide or communicate any Confidential Information of the Company, including but not limited to information relating to the Company's business, employee information, customer business or data with sources outside the Company, to anyone or anywhere, regardless of the mode or format of such disclosure or communication, including, without limitation, at conferences, seminars, meetings of professional organizations, or by publication in journals, blogs, interactive social media (such as Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram etc.) or in course of granting or participating in interviews to journalists and/ or the media

In course of your employment with Ameriprise and while performing one or more business functions for the Company, Confidential Information and trade secrets may be divulged only to other employees of the Company who have a business need for such information, in order to carry out their respective business responsibilities for the Company. These obligations apply both during and subsequent to your employment with Ameriprise. You agree not to discuss Confidential Information of the Company in public places (either within or outside Ameriprise business or office facilities) or with former or prospective employees of the Company

You agree that any work product produced or developed by you in the performance of your duties hereunder shall also be Confidential Information subject to this Agreement and such work product is, and shall remain, the property of the Company, including all property rights therein

You also agree to help safeguard the expectations of privacy of the Company's customers' and employees by exercising utmost diligence and care in the handling of Confidential Information, relating to them, as more fully explained in the Company's Customer Privacy Principles. In addition to your confidentiality obligations to Ameriprise and Company as stated herein, you further agree to adhere to and abide by all other codes, policies and practices of Ameriprise and Company and all related covenants and obligations thereunder

An employee who improperly discloses Confidential Information is subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

Confidentiality Agreement
